Educational Community

Southern Lehigh School District provides an educational program known for its excellence and forward-looking perspective, which is sensitive to the changing needs of its students. The community, faculty, parents and students have joined together in striving to maintain and enhance that excellence.

Southern Lehigh School District will educate all students to develop twenty-first century skills required to become life-long learners and productive members of an ever-changing world.

Our Community

Located one hour north of Philadelphia, and two hours west of New York, the Lehigh Valley nestles in the rolling hills of Pennsylvania. A mixture of urban quality and collegiate excellence, surrounded by rural serenity and beauty, the Valley offers residents a wide range of opportunities and life experiences.

The focal point of Lehigh Valley is the mid-sized, dual-city complex of Allentown and Bethlehem, having a population of over 100,000. Bethlehem, originally an 18th century Moravian community, still reflects the historic significance of the area's heritage, as shown in its gothic German architecture. Allentown, rapidly becoming known as one of the country's progressive high-tech centers, also is the home of several outstanding private colleges and universities, which is part of a larger consortium including Muhlenberg, Cedar Crest, Lafayette, Moravian, and Lehigh University. DeSales University, a private four-year liberal arts college, is located in the district. There are also four schools in the state university system within 35 miles of Southern Lehigh.

New shopping malls, growing light industry, nationally recognized art museums and cultural programs, and rambling parks provide an ideal urban setting for area inhabitants. And yet, a fiveminute drive in any direction brings a person out into the beautiful rolling countryside of fields and forests. Unspoiled by modern progress, the Valley reflects the purity and benefits of living in a naturalistic setting. Low mountains, forests and verdant fields provide the population with extensive recreational activities, self-contained within the Valley.

Southern Lehigh School District lies on the southern edge of the Lehigh Valley. Its 48 square miles includes the borough of Coopersburg (population 2,574) and the rural townships of Upper Saucon (population 14,570) and Lower Milford (population 3,860). The District, made up of three elementary schools (K-3), one intermediate school (4-6), one middle school (7-8), and one high school (9-12), plays a significant role in the community. The schools encourage parents and residents to participate in many diversified ways -- from classroom visitations and open houses to working on community projects. Schools and the community make a concerted effort to work closely together to provide children with multifaceted opportunities. Student enrollment currently stands at approximately 3100.

As the community reflects its values in its strong support of quality education for its children, the school district in turn serves the community in providing the vehicle for this educational excellence.

Southern Lehigh has participated in the Lehigh Valley Career Pathways Consortium since 1998. Students are involved in a career guidance program. By eighth grade, students have explored career clusters - Arts and Humanities; Business/Communication Technology; Engineering/Industrial Technology; or Health Sciences/Human Services and either the Traditional or Technical pathway within the cluster. The District has offered dual enrollment opportunities since 2004 and continues to expand opportunities in dual enrollment each year. Courses delivered through distance learning, dual enrollment, both on our campus and at local colleges and universities, and Independent Study allows our students to pursue their career goals in elective courses that a school of our size could otherwise not offer. Our 2010-11 AYP has been met for the District. Our results show a 95.6% graduation rate, a 95.5% attendance rate, an average participation rate for grades 3-12 of 99.3% Math and 99.1% in Reading. Results show proficiency rates of 84.1% in Math and 84.2% in Reading, averaged for grades 3-12.

The strengths of our school district are:

- Consistent high performance in test scores
- Students and teachers are engaged and interested in their school experiences
- A variety of educational opportunities being utilized including dual-enrollment, on-line language instruction, on-line recovery courses, career and technical education, independent study, critical language offerings
- Required courses to meet Career Education and Work standards
- Participation in Lehigh County Pathways, High Schools that Work, and other career focused activities
- Partnerships with community groups, higher education and business groups
- Supportive, involved, and educationally-minded parents and community

Our needs include:

- Continual improvement in academic proficiency as demonstrated in the PSSA exam scores in Reading, Math, Science and local assessments
- Initiating improvement plans in academic proficiency as demonstrated by new Keystone graduation exams in Reading, Math, Science, and Writing
- Continual improvement in proficiency on college placement exams
- More opportunities for personalized career counseling and courses to support career goals (including dual-enrollment, job-shadowing and internships)
- More professional development activities designed for ubiquitous technology use in learning, differentiation of instruction and strategies to increase rigor, relevance, and relationships leading to student success
- More opportunities for 21st century learning
- A greater understanding of our changing technology-infused global society and the role each plays to contribute as an informed citizen

Academic Standards

In order to support high student achievement for all students, the district has developed curricular programs based on the following:

- Curriculum framework that provides appropriate, focused instruction based on the PA standards that establish what all students need to know, understand, and be able to do
- Assessments that match the clear standards as defined in the curriculum framework
- Instruction that is aligned to standards and differentiated to meet the needs of students
- Appropriate materials and resources that support the instructional goals
- Intervention programs to provide targeted assistance for struggling students
- Gifted and enrichment programs to expand the curriculum for students who qualify

Southern Lehigh School District provides an educational program based on curriculum built around the PA Academic Standards and assessment anchors, and the common core standards. Curriculum committees and/or selected teachers build our standards-based curriculum based on the Understanding by Design model (Wiggins and McTighe). Following the Curriculum Cycle, curriculum that includes content, instructional practices, and assessment is written, reviewed, and revised in an on-going fashion. Analysis of student data, stored in our data warehouse, and review of "best practice" literature guide the curriculum committees.

The curriculum follows the Pennsylvania Chapter 4 guidelines and the academic standards of the Southern Lehigh School District are aligned to the PA Academic Standards and Assessment Anchors.

Science and Technology. Study of the natural world and facts, principles, theories and laws in the areas of biology, chemistry, physics and earth sciences. Technology is the application of science to enable societal development, including food and fiber production, manufacturing, building, transportation and communication. Science and technology share the use of the senses, science processes, inquiry, investigation, analysis and problem solving strategies.

Environment and Ecology. Understanding the components of ecological systems and their interrelationships with social systems and technologies. These components incorporate the disciplines of resource management, agricultural diversity, government and the impact of human actions on natural systems. This interaction leads to the study of watersheds, threatened and endangered species, pest management and the development of laws and regulations.

Using this content, students will learn to think, reason and communicate mathematically.

A curriculum development process has been instituted in the District to facilitate continuous curriculum review, analysis, development, coordination, and articulations. This process incorporates a curriculum council comprised of a representative cross-section of the school community that meets on a scheduled basis for the purpose of reviewing and analyzing curriculum by major subject areas. The process used by Southern Lehigh School District includes: research /data gathering, comparison of current practices to best practices, planning, writing or revision of curricula, and implementation/evaluation.

Strategic Planning Process

The purpose of the Strategic Plan is to set and achieve specific goals in order to continue transforming the organization to provide the highest quality learning opportunities for our students as well as strive for an environment in which all employees can be successful. Critical to the planning process is facilitating a shared purpose or alignment. Alignment is the process of reaching mutual understanding about common goals. It gives shared meaning to the work of the School District, thereby enabling successful accomplishment of the goals of the organization.

The steps of the process are to review our mission statement, develop a vision for the future of the District, define our values, and set measurable goals to achieve the mission, vision, and practice the values.

The final product will be a road map of the next six (6) years for Southern Lehigh which revolves around our plan, An Eye to the Future...The Re-creation of Southern Lehigh School District. Since the PA Department of Education has now developed an electronic strategic planning tool, we will have much greater flexibility in revising our plan based on future needs as well as truly maintaining our plan as a living document which guides our work.

The process includes the utilization of a Steering Committee made up of Board members, administration, teachers, parents, students, and community members. The Steering Committee serves the purpose of reviewing the entire Strategic Plan to insure all pieces are in alignment with the mission, vision, and shared values of the District. The Steering Committee will serve in an advisory capacity to review the recommendations from the subcommittees and district administration.

Strength Concern Last Modified: 8/17/2011

AYP met with increases made at 6-11 grade levels. Even though scores remain high for grade 3-5, we have seen a decrease over last year's scores.

• Legacy Dataview 1717

Strength Concern Last Modified: 8/15/2011

Proficiency levels are adequate for AYP. Increases at some grade levels are commendable, but we need to work toward ensuring that our Advanced level scores are maintained or increased. We also need to continue to work with struggling students to ensure progress and to pay close attention to students identified in subgroups. Strategies must be in place and progress closely monitored for these at-risk students.

Strength Concern Last Modified: 8/17/2011

Previous increases in enrollment led to the need for additional classroom space which facilitated the opening of a new building for grades 4-6 - Southern Lehigh Intermediate School. This additional level caused the reconfiguring of other levels which impacted curriculum and instruction at all levels. These updates have been made and are under continuous improvement. Bringling grade level teams together has provided strength in curriculum pacing and delivery along with shared best practices. The consolidation of grades in one building has created subgroups, where previously our numbers were too low. These subgroups have allowed us to focus attention to some of our struggling students through shared resources and focused RtII.

Measurable Annual Improvement Targets

Measurable Annual Improvement Targets

Southern Lehigh School District continues to strive to meet or exceed the proficiency targets set by No Child Left Behind (NCLB) that are outlined below.

School Year	Reading/LA	Mathematics
	% of Students who Score in the Proficient and Advanced Range	% of Students who Score in the Proficient and Advanced Range
2008-2009	63	56
2009-2010	63	56
2010-2011	72	67
2011-2012	81	78
2012-2013	91	89
2013-2014	100	100

Each year, teachers and administrators analyze the PSSA data to determine student areas of strengths and weaknesses. Based on the analysis, curriculum committees review and revise the district curriculum. The district identifies students who fail to meet the proficient target and offers remediation support.

Mastery of the Academic Standards

Each student must demonstrate mastery of the PA academic standards either on the state system of assessment (PSSA)/Keystones or the local system of assessment. The state assessment is administered during the junior year of high school and a proficient score is required for mastery. If a student does not demonstrate proficiency, any of the three exams may be retaken once during the senior year. Student proficiency is measured by success in the content of the required course areas that are written to meet the PA standards, outline benchmarks (what students know, understand, and are able to do) for that course, and define assessments to measure student performance towards those benchmarks.

Assessments and Public Reporting

Assessment is the link between teaching and learning. Well-designed assessment "drives" instruction by enabling teachers to monitor the success of their instruction through the behavior of their students.

Purpose of Assessment

Assessment can have many situational purposes:

- 1. District accountability measured by PSSA (Pennsylvania System of School Assessment)/Keystone exams and Mid-Year and Year-End Assessments or Common Assessments (elementary)
- 2. Curricular improvement through item analysis and curriculum matching on criterion-based assessments and PSSA/ Keystone exams
- 3. Measurement of individual student achievement of content and skill
- 4. Reflective goal setting for students and teachers
- 5. Diagnostic information about student learning (Example: DIBELS as the universal screener as part of the RtII process)
- 6. Formative and summative evaluation of student progress and growth
- 7. Day-to-Day instructional decision making
- 8. Monitoring growth towards district goals
- 9. Student placement
- 10. Measure achievement of standards

Current and Proposed Assessment Procedures

Southern Lehigh recognizes that varied methods of assessment are essential. Student learning is a complex process which requires a variety of assessment methods and procedures matched to the tasks, learning process and purpose.

We will continue to use a number of assessment instruments at each grade level. (See the District-wide assessment plan.)

Assessment Procedures

Title I

Assessments measure student achievement at the elementary and middle school level for the Title I program. We participate in the Title I program as Targeted Assistance Schools operating as a school-wide project. Through the use of multiple assessment measures such as common assessments, placement tests, 4-Sight, PSSA, teacher recommendation check-list, program-specific instruments, students are identified and progress is frequently monitored (under the guidelines of our Response to Instruction and Intervention procedures.)

Writing Assessment (K-12)

With the assistance of teachers, elementary students in Southern Lehigh maintain students writing folders. Training in analytical scoring of writing using rubrics and writing across the curriculum has been a staff education focus. While all teachers use the traits and rubrics to score writing, a specific emphasis is placed on writing in grades 4, 5, 7 and 10 where anchor papers are selected district wide and teams of teachers score the writing samples as part of a District

Assessment initiative. Scoring is processed into group and individual reports. Individual reports are shared with parents.

Rubrics

Teachers use rubrics as a measure of students' performance. These measures may be general, such as Vicki Spandel's Six Trait Writing Rubrics, or project-specific. Often students use these rubrics to assess the performance level of a class sample or assess their own performance. Rubrics are used for a wide variety of purposes but most notably for scoring or monitoring students in the areas of:

- 1. Reading and writing
- 2. Oral reports
- 3. Presentations and public speaking
- 4. Interdisciplinary projects
- 5. Behavior management (Instructional Support Teams)

Portfolios

Informal portfolios of students are maintained by teachers at many levels. More than mere collections of student work, the portfolios focus discussion during conferences between teacher, student and parent at the elementary and middle school levels. Portfolios are a strong link between the home and school as they provide a glimpse of authentic student work rather than work reduced to grades when presented to parents as evidence of achievement.

Assessment Results

Through varied methods, Southern Lehigh teachers and administrators attempt to create a profile for each student's learning. The district has begun using a data warehouse (Ed Insight) to gather student performance information. Our goal is to review student data on the district and school levels, using the information to review and revise curriculum and the instructional programs that support it. Further, teachers, RtII and IST teams, SAP teams along with grade-level / subject area teacher teams, review individual student profiles to build successful programs and interventions for individual students.

Assessment results are shared with parents, school board, and community members. Testing reports are sent home and discussed in scheduled conferences or personal contacts between teachers and parents. Southern Lehigh staff communicates with parents concerning their child's progress in an on-going manner. Parents of 4th through 12th grade students have on-going access to student grades through a parent portal and parent conferences. Parents of K-3 children have parent conferences in November and April and will have access to student grades through a parent portal by 2012. Elementary parents communicate about student progress through phone calls, student work folders, and parent notes/email. The district shares student progress summaries with the community through the District newsletter, the District Report Card, and on the District web pages.

Student Success

Southern Lehigh will continue to support those students who have difficulty in achieving the transitional outcomes. We have in place numerous support systems to assist students with their learning:

1. Instructional Support/ Response to Instruction and Intervention teams at each elementary school

- 2. SAP teams at Middle School and High School
- 3. Instructional teams that meet regularly at the Middle School to discuss student achievement
- 4. Tutors offering instructional assistance at the High School
- 5. Title I, LEA and Special Education aides, Special teachers, and Instructional Assistants to provide small group and one-on-one assistance
- 6. A system of accommodations which may be used for Special Needs students
- 7. Psychologists and guidance counselors to assist with personal problems that interfere with learning.

Student success is a shared venture and requires the commitment of all stakeholders. It is also our belief that we must have high expectations for all students. The District continuously evaluates the usefulness of the data provided by these assessments and reviews newly available instruments to update the assessment plan.

Targeted Assistance For Struggling Students

Plan to Improve Student Achievement

Each year the school district conducts an analysis of district data from the assessment tools to guide and improve curriculum and instruction. This analysis includes a review of the data from externally-normed, state, district and classroom assessments. Although each assessment instrument yields different data, the general review process is as follows:

--The Directors of Elementary and Secondary Education, building principals, and building data teams review the student data. (This data resides within our data warehouse and may be accessed at the teacher and building level.)

--Teams of subject area teachers, building data teams, and grade level teachers review the data, observe trends, patterns and areas of strength and weakness. Teachers analyze root causes for these patterns.

--The administrative team reviews the data trends and root causes, identifying areas that need further exploration or investigation. The team sets goals based on the information; then the buildings define action plans to address the goals and identify individual students who need additional support.

--The district support staff and subject area curriculum staff assist teachers in finding support materials and research driven instructional techniques to enhance the instructional program in the goal areas. Professional education is planned to provide "best practice" instructional practices and build content knowledge.

--Subject area leaders within their committee meetings review the data that relate to their content area in order to revise their curricula and programs as part of the curriculum cycle and to improve the curriculum or programs used to implement the curriculum.

-- The curriculum department collaborates with other school districts in state, intermediate unit workshops, professional conferences on standards-based topics to bring information of "best practices" to the district.

--Teachers provide differentiated instruction within their classroom to meet the instructional needs of their students (Differentiated Instruction has been a Southern Lehigh priority for the last six years)

Furthermore, the district provides other support services and materials to students and parents:

--Content support and tutorials linked to the district website.

--Multiple opportunities for students to engage in open-ended tasks in all content areas

--Multiple opportunities for students to respond to writing prompts in a variety of genre in all curricular areas

--Programs and student activities utilizing PSSA items

--Parent workshops to learn about current Southern Lehigh practices and strategies and ways to assist and support their children (Example: First Grade Reading Camp, a summer camp where parents learn how to read simple books with their children, practice those strategies, and take home summer packets for practice.)

Support Services for Students with Needs beyond the Regular Education Program

Students with Disabilities

Students with disabilities are provided with a special education program identified in an Individualized Education Plan under the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act. These identified students who complete their special education program shall be granted and issued a regular high school diploma by Southern Lehigh School District.

The ESL program is part of the core curriculum; it replaces or extends the English planned instruction required under Chapter 4. The budget includes funding to support the program. The student receives sufficient instructional time from a PA certified teacher with appropriate resource materials. The teacher uses an assessment system that monitors student progress in learning English, as defined by PDE. The classroom teacher provides assistance and accommodations so the ELL student has academic success while learning English. The ESL Program is evaluated annually to determine if the ELL are achieving success in learning English. If they are not, the program is adapted to meet their needs.

The Gifted Program is designed to serve students whose needs require enrichment, extension, and acceleration beyond the regular, differentiated classroom. It is created to cultivate interest, capacity, and skills necessary for independent, intellectual inquiry and life-long learning as well as encouraging freedom of thought, creative expression, and educational risk taking. Those students who participate in the Gifted Program qualify for the Program based on the Chapter 16 regulations. The Gifted Program is delivered via a pull-out resource setting with intellectual peers, a gifted reading and research seminar, a rigorous language arts programming, accelerated math programming, honors/advanced placement courses, college scholars, and individual independent study and a push-in model where the gifted teachers work with students within the classroom. The budget includes funding to support the Gifted Program throughout the district. The gifted staff under the direction of the Director of Special Education continues to self-monitor its programs in order to determine that it is meeting the needs of the gifted population.

A full program of identification and supports is available for at-risk and eligible special education students. Individualized programs are designed for students with learning disability, emotional disturbance, autism, mental retardation, deafness, blindness, hearing impairment, multiple disabilities, visual impairment, orthopedic impairment, traumatic brain injury, and speech or language impairment. In addition, the resources of the Intermediate Unit 21 are available to our students. Southern Lehigh serves students in the least restrictive environment and provides numerous inclusionary programs throughout the district.

Support for Struggling Schools

Plan for Additional Opportunities

The district has designed various programs to assist students who are having difficulty achieving the academic standards. The strategic plan outlines additional supports for implementation over the next 6 years. The programs are a multi-leveled approach addressing the various needs of the district students. Each component is listed below with the appropriate grade levels. Building teams of teachers and administrators operate and manage each program modifying procedures and activities as needed. Financial support for the each item has been incorporated into the district budget. Building data on the activities and specific procedures for use of the program is maintained in each building office.

The programs for additional student instructional opportunities are:

Title I support for additional mathematics and/or reading intervention instruction for students who qualify through a multiple assessment criteria at qualifying schools.

Response to Instruction and Intervention program or Instructional Support

Elementary students who fall below the expected reading performance levels in the universal screener, DIBELS, are identified for further assessment. The team targets appropriate intervention to meet the student's need. Support is provided by an intervention teacher, highly trained instructional assistant, instructional support teacher or reading specialist. Students who do not demonstrate success in mathematics also receive support. This program will be expanded to the middle and high schools.

Reading Buddies, National Honor Society tutors and Literacy volunteers (grades K-5)

Summer school courses and programs (grades 9-12)

Referral to the Instructional Support Team (K-6) or grade-level team (7-8)

Activity period assistance at the middle school/after-school programs

Software tutorial programs for in school and home

On-line homework assistance links

Mathematics learning labs at the high school

Summer Math Lab at HS

Reading, Math Remediation/PSSA Prep at MS

Qualified, Effective Teachers and Capable Instructional Leaders

District Resources

The Southern Lehigh School District ensures the employment of qualified professional employees (administrators and teachers) to deliver the curriculum, instruction, and assessment requirements of state regulations. Thus, personnel who teach and administer the district-planned instruction and assessment programs have the proper credentials.

Presently there are 240 professional employees on staff. There is an average student-teacher ratio of 14 students per teacher. The district also employs 24 administrators in the following positions:

Superintendent

Assistant Superintendent

Director of Elementary Education

Director of Secondary Education

Director of Business Services

Human Resources Administrator

Director of Special Education

Coordinator of Technology

High School Principal

Assistant High School Principal

Middle School Principal

Assistant Middle School Principal

Elementary School Principal (3)

Intermediate School Principal

Assistant Intermediate School Principal

Athletic Director

Director of Support Services

Logistics Support Specialist

Director of Food Services

Payroll & Benefits Specialist

Each school building contains a library with reference resources of various media to supplement the district's curriculum, instruction, and assessment programs. These resources are provided to support the district's mission, goals, and academic standards. At each level, the library provides instruction for students in all planned courses with reference to information skills, including access to traditional and electronic information sources, and computer use and research. Staff for the district's library-media program includes 2.6 librarians for the elementary schools, one full time middle/high school librarian and two technology integration coaches who help facilitate media services.

The buildings are maintained continuously at a very high standard for cleanliness and comfort and promote achievement of the district's mission, goals, and academic standards.

Each building is supported by infrastructure for improved technology and communications systems as described in the technology plan. Each classroom is connected to the district network and computer labs support specific content in the Middle School and the High School. A television studio provides school-wide communication in both of those buildings.

Each school contains facilities for implementation of the curriculum, instruction, and assessment programs as required in Chapter 4. Elementary buildings provide for active learning experiences in art, music, dance, and exploration or "hands-on" experiences in science and environmental education. At the middle school, facilities are provided for active learning experiences in the arts and related areas of study, science, environmental education, technology education, and consumer and family science. In the high school, laboratories are available for all science courses and facilities are provided for the arts, music, dance, and theater. Computer labs ensure uses and applications of computers and software including word processing, databases, spreadsheets, and telecommunications. Finally, the high school physical plant offers facilities for business education, foreign language, family life education, and technology education.

In addition to the above, other resources are available to assist in student achievement of the district's mission, goals and academic standards. Presently, these resources include, but are not limited to the following:

Professional libraries in each building

Local, regional, state, and national staff development programs available for all professional personnel

Extracurricular programs

Outdoor recreation facilities and community programs

Intermediate unit programs and services

School/business partnerships, which provide mentoring and school-to-work opportunities for students

Interagency collaborations (for example, MHMR, drug and alcohol single county authorities, etc.)

Options to attend the Lehigh County Career and Technical Institute, local community colleges and private colleges as part of the scholars program.

Parent and Community Participation

Southern Lehigh School District values the importance of building partnerships with families and community members. Parents and guardians are the students' first teachers and play an important continuing role in the education of their children. Families and community members share a commitment to the educational success of our students.

Parents are integral partners in our schools. They volunteer to assist with special events, tutor, and chaperone school sponsored events and field trips. Each school is supported by a parent group such as PTA and Parent Partners. There are numerous "booster" associations that support athletics and music. Concerts, performances, and athletic events bring parents and community into the schools as well. Last, the Southern Lehigh Foundation, supported by parents and community members, sponsors fund-raising activities to provide mini-grants and special projects within the district. The strategic planning process identified several strategies to increase interaction with parents and the community. (Examples: Create mentoring and shadowing experiences with businesses and schools; Investigate "best practice" programs to assist parents in supporting their students' academics.)

Our schools sponsor a variety of opportunities for parents and guardians. A sampling of events follows:

- Back-to-School Nights provide a time for teachers to welcome parents into the school and inform attendees about the curricula at each grade level.
- Parent/Teacher Conferences offer a time for parents to talk with teachers about their student's progress in school. The conference schedule allows for day-time and evening meetings.
- Parent Workshops offer a time to learn about a curricular area, college preparation, and student safety, Title I topics, and information to support children as they enter school, as they make transitions from school to school, and study tips when working at home.
- Student Orientation Programs support students who move into the district and students who are entering a school for the first time.

Our district partners with many colleges in the area. Students may participate in dual enrollment opportunities with Lehigh Community College. Other students attend local institutions such as Lehigh University and DeSales University. Other community organizations such as the local fire departments, the DaVinci Center, and the Weller Center work with the district to provide support and enrichment for students.
