

Features of... Fictional Narrative

- It is an original literary text written from a consistent first-person point of view.
- It includes personal reflections (thoughts and feelings) on events.
- It includes appropriate vocabulary for the event.
- It shows a sense of originality, sincerity, liveliness, or humor appropriate for the topic and mode.
- It may include both literal and figurative language where appropriate for the purpose.