What's Happening

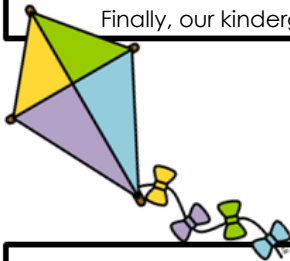

Spring is officially here, and classes are moving forward in the library with many new units of study. Each grade has been busy learning new skills and reading new books. Here is what we have been up to.....

3rd grade is researching! Students have officially started their independent research projects. We like to complete them each year as a culmination of our study of the online catalog and nonfiction arrangement. This year, we will be researching animals in conjunction with the 3rd grade field trip to the Philadelphia Zoo.

2nd grade is finishing their study of author Mo Willems. We have had a blast reading his fantastic books. Soon it will be time to begin our final author project and write a letter to Mo.

1st grade is excited to begin checking out 3 books during the 4th quarter. They will also learn about alphabetical arrangement of fiction books by creating their own class alphabet books.

Finally, our kindergartners are learning about nonfiction books!

April is National Poetry Month. It's the perfect time to read poetry with your children. A favorite title is Runny Babbit by Shel Silverstein.

We Are Reading...

Wolf by Becky Bloom

Leonardo the Terrible Monster by Mo Willems
