We're Busy Learning

Spring has sprung in the library, and we are working hard in all grade levels and having some fun too! Our kindergarten classes have been enjoying seasonal reading. Our favorite kindergarten books this month include Click Clack Peep by Doreen Cronin and The Easter Egg by Jan Brett.

First grade is finishing up their study of fiction and nonfiction books. They will have an opportunity to vote on their favorite type of books and also will show their knowledge of these 2 genres by playing a game of Kids vs. Teacher.

2nd grade is enjoying an author study of Mo Willems. His books are great! So far, we have read 3 of his most popular series and a biography of this award winning author. His books have been flying off the shelves!

Finally, 3rd grade will put their knowledge of the online catalog and nonfiction organization to the test by starting a research project. They get to pick their topic but must find resources independently!

March is National Craft Month! We have plenty of craft books here in the library to keep kids creative and busy. You can also try www.crayola.com for free and fun ideas.

Thank You!

Thank you to everyone who supported the Used Book Sale! It was a great success. You helped to raise over $600 for our library! I would like to especially thank Anne Venturelli for organizing and donating many hours to the event!

Dr. Seuss

We celebrated Read Across America Day on Wednesday, March 2. On this day, kids across the country celebrate the birthday of Dr. Seuss.

Here at Liberty Bell, each classroom had a mystery reader pop in to read a Seuss book, help make each child make a Seuss puppet and donate a book to the classroom library!
